Books & the Mother Tongue

Our school lays a strong emphasis on students reading good books. Please support your child's reading habits and encourage visits to good bookshops/libraries.

A summary of books read by your son/daughter during the vacations will be asked for by the homeroom and English teachers. Alternatively, a presentation to the class on the book (s) may be requested.

The school also encourages all students to develop their mother tongue for some of the following benefits :

1. Students perform often better in mainstream subjects (science, humanities, etc.) as compared to monolingual students.
2. They retain a positive attitude towards their mother tongue and cultural background, leading to increased self-esteem.

Parents, you should guide your children by providing good books and magazines in the mother tongue.

We would appreciate if you could loan these books and magazines to the class library in July 2010.

Class Plays

This year once again, we had excellent drama presentations by each class.

Parents played a significant role in the success of the plays.

We request parents, teachers and students to look out for good 'scripts' of plays which could be staged in the next school year. Your cooperation counts!

We will have seven class plays in the First Term (Grades 12, 10, 8, 7, 5, 4 and 3).

Warm regards

Wishing you Happy Holidays...!
